

Children's Rainbow Center Newsletter

Rainbow Times

Linking Our Hearts

Report on the 9th Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay Sunday, October 25th, 2015

As one of the activities to promote child abuse and neglect prevention, the 9th Orange Ribbon TASUKI Relay was held under a great refreshing weather for the runners. This relay was launched in 2007 by a small group of child welfare workers who happened to be marathon lovers, and has been widely spreading since.

This year, approximately 700 runners, total of 20,000 people participated in the campaign. Not only child welfare workers but also high school students, fireman, policeman, and U.S. navy men ran to promote safer community for the children.

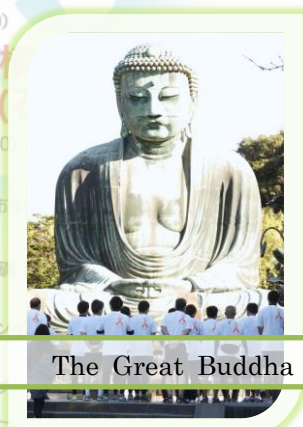

the base of Tokyo Tower

Shibuya scramble crossing

Towards the goal Yamashita Park

The Great Buddha

At the goal, Yamashita Park, there were activities such as hand knitting, pinwheel crafting, and traditional games as well as food stands and stage performances.

This relay started in Tokyo/ Yokohama and is spreading nationally to Nagano, Shizuoka, Gifu, Aichi, Shiga, Tottori, Yamaguchi, Kochi, Miyazaki ...and more! These relay were picked up on local new media too. We are sure that public awareness is rising!

Yamashita Park with fun events ↑ ↑
Street performances, Hero shows, Activity booths, Food stands, Stage performances... and more